

Your efforts to loosen laws and regulations on cross ownership is wrong headed and self-defeating, if what you want is media that brings diverse and multifaceted newsreporting and quality television programming. It is time to stop the progression of media corporations into bigger and bigger organizations concerned only with the bottom line.